

Program: Classic Breakfast

Rasa Duende blends Hindustani and Flamenco traditions in a spicy Breakfast Jam

Broadcast 8:15am, Fri 17 May 2013

Some mornings it's stimulating to try something different for breakfast. Why not Aloo Paratha?

Presented by Emma Ayres

Our Breakfast Jammers today are Bobby Singh (Tabla), Adrian McNeil (Sarod) and Damian Wright (Flamenco Guitar)

This exciting trio draws on the melodies and rhythms in both the Hindustani and Flamenco music cultures. They use improvisation to transform this traditional material into something new and exciting. And they're not beyond drawing comparisons between the food and the music of both traditions. Yum! What a way to start your day with the strong flavours of Spain and the spices of India.

Rasa Duende are about to release their first album "Improvisations".

Find out more about the album and their upcoming national tour here.

Rasa Duende: Bobby Singh (Tabla), Adrian McNeil (Sarod) and Damian Wright (Flamenco Guitar)

Gallery

Music Listings

Classic Breakfast with Emma Ayres